

Unlock the Future with Soverin's Complete Email Solution

In the digital age, where email remains a cornerstone of communication, companies rely on functional email services under their own domains to project professionalism and foster thriving digital interactions. Embark on a journey towards success with our advanced email solution designed to propel your organization forward. With Soverin, you can unlock the potential of a reliable email service that prioritizes the privacy of your digital communications.

We've crafted a steadfast email platform that not only operates seamlessly but also goes above and beyond regulatory standards, ensuring your digital communications remain compliant and secure from prying eyes. With Soverin, your team can use their email uninterrupted, with the added assurance of privacy—all at a price that suits your budget.

Future-proof your email service using a visionary solution.

As companies and teams expand, the need for an email platform that can provide more space and features becomes inevitable. At Soverin, we will grow with you, providing a future-proof email solution that caters to your evolving requirements. Take control of your digital life. Our powerful email service offers a secure mailbox, complete sync for your calendar and contacts, unlimited aliases, email filters, and domain management. Our priority is ensuring your team remains productive and your digital communications flow uninterrupted. You can rely on us as your email experts, we will seamlessly adapt to your organization's evolving needs and maintain the balance between scalability, functionality, agility, and speed—all while upholding the core values of privacy that define the essence of Soverin.

Benefits of partnering with Soverin

Future-proof email service that grows as you grow

Compliant email platform that's built like a secure fort

Smart tooling to avoid incidents from piling up

A reliable email platform that delivers ironclad security.

In the ever-evolving digital landscape, protecting your brand and safeguarding your data is paramount. Our functional email platform is built like an impenetrable fort, from offering role-based features, including an admin account managed by an account owner who can manage, troubleshoot, and optimize the emails within your organization to adhering and going beyond industry standards. At Soverin, we make sure your organisation's information remains secure whether your team is receiving an email or hitting send. Let us handle all the necessary email protocols and standards like GDPR, DMARC, DKIM, SPF, DANE, TLSA, TLS, BIMi, SRS while you focus on your business. As your email experts, we've got you covered. Besides, for added protection, our servers are in three different locations within Europe. Say goodbye to data breach fears and welcome a digital castle that is secure by default.

Consumenten bond

"Soverin works without ads tailored to your messages. And that is good for your privacy."

De Telegraaf

"Soverin...a conscious alternative to free email."

LN

"An alternative to your free email: paid email. Pay for your email with money instead of data."

Cutting-edge tech, built to avoid disruptive incidents.

We have blended cutting-edge technology with an unwavering commitment to exceptional customer support, ensuring a seamless journey for all. Armed with smart tooling and useful insights that include email routing, our top-notch email platform ensures that your support desk is not merely able to handle and resolve email-related tickets swiftly but can proactively prevent them from piling up.

We want to keep users happy. That's why, at Soverin, we created a support system that serves as a proactive ally in weaving unparalleled satisfaction and productivity.

Pricing

Every organisation is different. At Soverin, we can offer a tailor-made solution based on your needs. S, M, L and XL-size pricing brackets with a pricing range per mailbox and storage, scaling up or down, depending on your needs.

About Soverin

Passionate about changing the status quo when it comes to digital privacy, Soverin is an independent, privacy-first email provider based in Amsterdam, the Netherlands. For a decade, our mission has been to ensure secure communication by giving users control over the privacy of their mailboxes. Run by a team of email experts, including tech gurus, network pros, domain authorities, protocol specialists, internet pioneers, entrepreneurs, and business leaders, we have created a secure, scalable, and steady email platform that is safe, functional, and easy to use.

Let's Connect.

Every hero needs a loyal sidekick. As you embark on your journey to ensure you have a reliable email solution, we can be yours. Partner up with us to offer your team a scalable, steady, and secure email solution that won't break the bank.